First—Because all States and Territories in the Union, except Kentucky, have general laws on the subject, and the experience of all has demonstrated that such laws are beneficial to the people and prevent the sacrifice of property under decretal sales. In no State or Territory where such laws have been in effect have they over been repealed.

Second—Recause the present General Statutes of Kentucky on the subject are defective and unsatisfactory. So much is this the case that the city of Louisville and other cities and counties in the State have petitioned the General Assembly to pass special laws for their benefit, providing for the proper alvertising of property sold unless by order of courts for the protection of parties in interest.

Worth Remembering.

A convenient method for rendering ordinary drawing-paper transparent for the purpose of making tracings, and of removing its transparency so as to restore its former appearance when the drawing is completed, has been la-vented by M. Puscher. It consists in dissolving a given quantity of castor-oil is one we or three volumes of ab-solute alcohol, according to the thickness of the paper, and applying it by means of a sponge. The sleohol evaporates in a few minutes, and the tracing-paper is dry and ready for iminches deep, and left to ferment a month. It is then forked over and again drenched with the rape-sake water. A good fertilizer would result.

Dr. Jenkins, of the Connecticut Experiment Station, has prepared an elaborate table of the "manurial values" of various fodders. He takes the averages of many analyses to determine the amounts of nitrogen, phosphoric acid and potash contained in the fodders. Then figuring the amounts of these three elements at the regular prices at which they are quoted in fertilizers a fair compare.
